DETAILED ACTION

In the amendment filed on 06/23/08, the following have occurred: claims 12, 15 and 33 have been amended, and claims 12, 14-16, 18-27 and 32-34 remain pending.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Claims 32-34 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. The applicant recites in the body of claim 32 six different instructions i.e., first, second, third, fourth, fifth, sixth instructions. However, the specification as originally filed does not provide support for these different instructions. More specifically, the specification as originally filed does mention modules and instructions; but not first, second, third, fourth, fifth, sixth instructions as now implied.

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 32-34 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. The preamble of claim 32 is directed to an apparatus. However, the body of the claim appears to be directed to a computer software/algorithm. The examiner contends that to claim a computer software/algorithm perform a particular function and then to disclose only a general purpose computer as the structure designed to perform the function in the absence of any algorithm amounts to pure functional claiming, lacking specificity and rendering the claim as a whole invalid for indefiniteness. The examiner further contends that because general purpose computers i.e., servers can be programmed/configured to perform very different tasks in very different ways, simply disclosing a computer as the structure designated to perform a particular function does not limit the scope of the claim to the corresponding structure.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

35 U.S.C. §101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

Claims 12, 14-16, 18-27 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. §101 because the claimed invention is directed to non-statutory subject matter.

Based on Supreme Court precedent (Diamond v. Diehr, 450 U.S. 175, 184 (1981); Parker v. Flook, 437 U.S. 584, 588 n.9 (1978); Gottschalk v. Benson, 409 U.S. 63, 70 (1972); Cochrane v. Deener, 94 U.S. 780, 787-88 (1876)) and recent Federal Circuit decisions, §101 process must (1) be tied to another statutory class (such as a particular apparatus) or (2) transform underlying subject matter (such as an article or materials) to a different state or thing (the Supreme Court recognized that this test is not necessarily fixed or permanent and may evolve with technological advances. Gottschalk v. Benson, 409 U.S. 63, 71 (1972)).

If neither of these requirements is met by the claim(s), the method is not a patent eligible process under 35 U.S.C. §101.

In this particular case, regarding the first test, in performing the steps of the claimed subject matter, there is no requirement that a machine be used, thus the claims are not considered sufficiently tied to another statutory class. Regarding the second test, since the claimed subject matter may be performed using only human intelligence, the steps do not sufficiently transform the underlying subject matter to be statutory. Thus, to qualify as a 101 statutory method, the claim should positively recite the other statutory class (the thing or product) to which it is tied and should sufficiently transform the underlying subject matter.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments, filed on 06/23/08, with respect to claims 12, 14-16, 18-27, and 32-34 have been fully considered and are persuasive. The previous art rejection has been withdrawn. Further, the applicant's amendment has necessitated the withdrawal of previous rejection under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph. However, the applicant arguments filed 06/23/08 concerning 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph rejection has been fully considered but they are not persuasive. The applicant argues in substance that the six instructions recited in claim 32 are supported by the specification. The applicant further points to paragraphs 0025, 0026, 0033, 0034, 0035, 0036, 0058, and 0060 for providing support for the six instructions recited in claim 32. Contrary to the applicant's assertion, the examiner submits that nothing in paragraphs 0025, 0026, 0033, 0034, 0035, 0036, 0058, and 0060 provides support for the each of the instructions recited in claim 32. More specifically, paragraphs 0025, 0026, 0033, 0034, 0035, 0036, 0058, and 0060 do mention general purpose computers, processors and databases, but not first, second, third, fourth, fifth, and sixth instructions as claimed by the applicant. Thus, the examiner maintains the rejection under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph.

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
